

FREE opportunity for employed people to improve career options!

Having maths and English qualifications at a good GCSE standard is becoming an essential requirement for most jobs and not having these skills could prevent you from improving your career chances.

But have no fear, help is on hand!

Free training and the opportunity to achieve GCSE standard qualifications in maths and English are available from Halton Borough Council's Skills for Life Team as part of the Government's Train to Gain initiative.

Following an initial assessment of your existing skills by a qualified maths or English tutor, you will be able to access an appropriate maths or English course to meet your needs. Attendance is just a couple of hours a week and courses are available during the day and in the evening across Runcorn and Widnes, including the Kingsway Learning Centre.

Better qualifications = better prospects

For more information or an informal, confidential chat, please ring
Barbara Murray, Skills for Life Project Officer on 0151 471 7486

Go on - it's never too late to learn!